

Hello everyone,

I have a very heavy heart knowing that we will not be meeting again in our classroom this year. I think we all knew it was coming, but hearing it come to a reality is hard. Spring is my favorite time of year in preschool. The kids have come so far and we truly feel like a family unit. I love to teach about spring changes and watch the kids observe them in action in the classroom through various special activities.

I know that social media learning isn't the same, but thank you for hanging in there with me as I try to read books and do little earth science projects online.

Please reach out to me if you have any questions, I am here!

Our letter of the week is Xx. Look on instagram for me doing some activities. I have also put a seed activity on instagram you can replicate at home.

I am attaching a shape worksheet if you feel like your child could use help with learning shapes.

If you have any personal belongings at school, I will be in contact soon with how you can get them back. I can get into my classroom, but we do have limited access to resources at the church.

Hang in there, folks! I love you all!
Jennifer
